Youth Mentoring: 1-on-1 and Groups

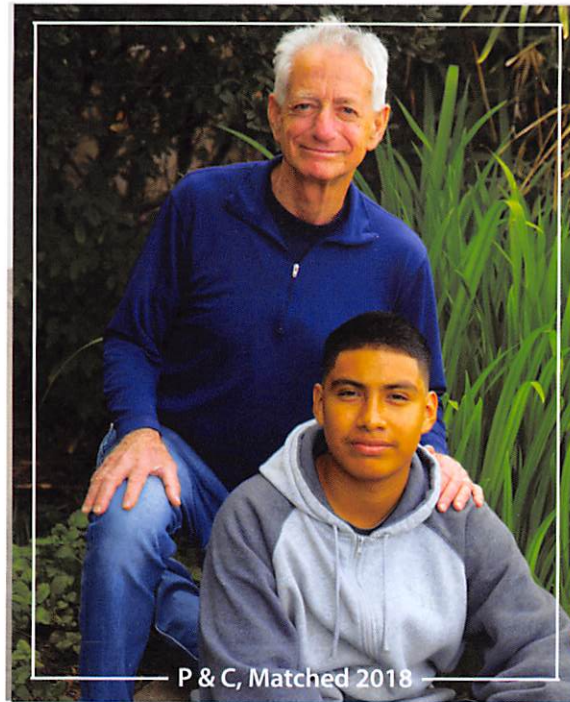

The evidence-based practices of Mentor Me match the findings of current nationwide studies indicating that youth involved in formal, high quality mentoring relationships:

- Attend school more consistently
- Have better attitudes and behaviors at school and at home
- Are more likely to complete high school
- Are more likely to pursue post-secondary educations

Every component of our program encourages positive adult and peer relationships, builds pro-social activities and life skills and supports educational and vocational attainment.

Youth Diversion & Restorative Mentoring

The Mentor Me Advocacy team was created to support the larger mission of Mentor Me by more deeply serving the community's most vulnerable youth.

The ability to form long term relationships is the cornerstone of the program's success. Disrupting the school-to-prison pipeline and ensuring high school completion is the primary goal.

Mentoring For Success

The Mentoring For Success model was developed by Mentor Me as a means to measure the successful outcomes of our program. It is an evidence-based model that utilizes three components:

CONNECTION Allows a feeling of school connectedness, a sense of hope & expectations for the future and the ability to trust in relationships.

GROWTH Promotes goal setting & healthy pursuits, encourages creative problem solving and builds and sustains resiliency.

CONTRIBUTION Leads to social & emotional competency and volunteerism, creating productive members of the community.
